The people behind match-fixing are dangerous individuals and they will never forgive you if you agree to manipulate a match.

It is not only yourself that you put at risk. Match-fixers have been known to threaten the families and friends of players and match officials.

Be careful with what you post on social networks (Facebook; LinkedIn; MySpace; Twitter . . .). You never really know who has access to your information.

If someone asks you to manipulate a match :

- Recognise : Understand what is happening to you
- Reject : Say 'NO' immediately
- Report : Inform your Football Association or AIFF immediately

Don't get involved in organised crime!
